

VERSION CONTROL GITHUB

19/06

First instance of using version control.

Submitting two completed projects to github.

The screenshot below shows the history of commits. Although my descriptions and titles are poor and lack any useful information, I've made the effort to commit my progress every night.

My general description key is:

- + For changes that are new and I have added
- For changes that have been removed or deleted
- ! To mark down important notes such as bugs/errors from the session or to do's
